Christmas is on its way, but for the extremely wealthy it poses a unique challenge - which presents are grand and ballistic enough to please those with fortunes that are embarrassing to contemplate and impossible to spend? GQ, as ever, has the answer.

Beyoncé

New Year's Eve is just around the corner. He'll hate the pressure of finding suitable entertainment for his guests, so save him the bother and book a real crowd-pleaser. Beyoncé's performed for as little as $2m, though expect a price bump for national holidays.
